

Sandy Days

Sandy Days Kids Camp is running in spring and summer, 2025!

Spring Camp:

Tower 11, Santa Monica Beach, 1100 Pacific Coast Hwy, 90403

Summer Camp:

TBA – info coming soon

Sandy Days Kids Camp has been part of the Pacific Palisades community since we opened in 2009. The Palisades Fire in January, 2025 has devastated this community, and the beautiful beaches we call home.

After 16 years at Will Rogers State Beach, we are forced to relocate camp to a new beach location this year. Right now, our home base is currently being used as a staging area in the EPA/Army Corps of Engineers cleanups of the Palisades. We also do not know when Pacific Coast Highway will be fully reopened. Out of an abundance of caution and to ensure you the best possible camp experience, we are securing alternative locations for our world-famous spring and summer camps.

What you need to know:

- Sandy Days Kids Camp is ON for spring and summer camps in 2025.
- Spring camp will be held in Santa Monica, at Tower 11.
- We are in the final stages of selecting our 2025 summer camp beach location.
- The alternate locations we're considering are in the general Santa Monica/Palisades area – and given the unpredictable status of PCH, they're certainly preferable.

Stay tuned to this space and our communications for our final location.
